The Anchor Line Packet Company.

Under this name a new and powerful steamboat company has been organized at St. Louis, with the intention of running a daily boat (except Sundays and Mondays) to New Orleans and return.
The mail boats of the original Anchor Line have combined with the New Orleans and St. Louis Packet Company to complete the present new company, and we think it will prove a great advantage to all who live along the river. A more popular and more liberal company than the Anchor Line has never existed, and as Mr.
John A. Scudder will continue to have control of the new line, his name is a sufficient guarantee that success will attend it. The steamers will all run through to New Orleans during the entire year, and thus give us more mail and traveling facilities. The line is composed of the following dozen steamboats: City of Vicksburg, St. Genevieve, Capitol City, Bismarck, Julia, John A. Scudder, Glencoe, City of Quincy, John Kyle, City of Alton, Susie Silver, and Commonwealth.

Brentlinger's Book Store And News Depot is now one of the most attractive places in the city. His shelves gladden with new books of every variety and style of binding, embracing those of standard authors, together with the latest and best literature. His stock of stationery is very large and fine, comprising legal, letter and note paper, blank books, the best copying ink, and envelopes of every color and size. He has also many pretty things for children, beautifully illustrated nursery primers, alphabet blocks, &c., to make knowledge pleasant to the little ones.
